Prophetstown's local historian Fred South has published his long-awaited book "Prophetstown: A Look at Its History (Vol. I and Vol. II)" and pre-orders are now being taken!

This is more than just a book – it will take you back to the founding of Prophetstown and follow its growth and development through the decades. Whether you are a history buff, looking to learn more about Prophetstown, or searching for the perfect gifts for family and friends, you will want to order now.

Volume I contains five written histories of Prophetstown; Volume II is a compilation of Prophetstown articles authored by Fred South and published by the Prophetstown Area Historical Society. Both volumes are included in this book.

To pre-order your copy (or copies) for delivery in mid October, send a check or money order (with your phone number) to PAHS, 304 Washington Street, Prophetstown, IL 61277.

The cost is $35 for PAHS current members or $60 for non members; please add $15 postage per book if you would like it mailed with address. All proceeds will benefit the Prophetstown Area Historical Society.

Fred South is a dedicated historian who has lived with his wife Barbara in Prophetstown for most of his life. He was a social studies and history teacher in middle school, high school and at the college level. He enjoys sharing the history of Prophetstown through his work at the Prophetstown Area Historical Society where he has published the many articles he has authored. This book was years in the making and is the result of countless hours of research and determination. Explore Prophetstown's history like never before!
